DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE
DELHI SCHOOL OF ECONOMICS
UNIVERSITY OF DELHI

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

The Department of Commerce, Faculty of Commerce and Business, Delhi School of Economics formally set up in 1967, has imbibed the DSE tradition of exploring new frontiers of knowledge and innovation in academics. In its history spanning over five decades, it has redefined commerce education in the country and has created a niche through curriculum development, teaching and research in the discipline. Keeping pace with changing times the Department has expanded its horizons. The Department, since inception, has kept focus on bringing novelty in academic programmes. This has led commencement of master level professional programmes, in addition to the research based M. Phil., Ph.D. and flagship M.Com. Programme. In response to market needs, the Department initiated two post-graduate professional programmes in 1995, namely, Master of International Business (MIB) and Master of Human Resource and Organizational Development (MHROD). The nomenclature of these two professional courses has been recently changed to MBA (IB) and MBA (HRD). In two decades time these courses have catered well to the market needs carving out a distinct place in their own sphere.

MASTER OF COMMERCE (M.Com)

- ❖ About the Course- A prized and flagship course Master of Commerce is a post graduate, two years (four semesters) full-time programme. The rigour in curriculum and pedagogy has brought laurels to the department and this is one of the prestigious courses in the country in its own domain. With the prime objective of creating world class academic in the field of commerce and business, this course has very well responded to the needs of industry and administration. This gets vouched as Alumni of the Department are well placed in business, academics and administration all across the globe.

❖ Admission Procedure

The admission to students is offered through two modes, Direct admission (Category A) and through Entrance Test (Category B). For convenience of admission seekers the procedure for admission to M.Com program is described as follows:

- I. Online Registration
- II. Category (A & B)
- III. Eligibility Criteria
- IV. Required Documents at the time of admission
- V. Entrance Test
- VI. Admission Process
- VII. Fees

I. Online Registration

All applicants irrespective of category are required to fill online registration form. There is no offline mode of filling the forms. For filling online application, please visit University of Delhi website www.du.ac.in and www.commercedu.com. Admission seekers are required, on their own, to visit the websites and admission portal for updates and details of admission schedule and dates.

II. Category There are two categories for admission namely A and B

Category A- Direct Admissions- Under this category the admission is offered to the candidates based on merit of marks in undergraduate course. The candidates seeking admission under this category are required to fulfill the eligibility criteria mentioned below (in III). Based on the merit in the under-graduate course, separate merit lists is prepared for the general as well as reserved categories of the students.

However, fulfilling the eligibility and securing the required percentage of marks (stated above) does not ensure automatic direct admission. This is because; the total number of candidates fulfilling the eligibility and securing the qualifying marks (above) exceeds the available seats under this category.

Category B- Through Entrance Test- Under this category admission is granted to the applicant through a common entrance test conducted by the University of Delhi. Based on the scores in the entrance test, separate merit lists is prepared for the general as well as reserved categories of the students.
